“These three had elaborated old Major’s teachings into a complete system of thought, to which they gave the name Animalism. Several nights a week, after Mr. Jones was asleep, they held secret meetings in the barn and expounded the principles of Animalism to the others.”	p. 16	The pigs develop a philosophy that they teach the other animals. By holding secret meetings, they are unifying the animals and setting them up to rebel when the opportunity is right. The other animals look to them as teachers and leaders.
